Disk or Plow Under Volunteer Wheat.

To avoid damage from the Hessian fly all volunteer wheat must be destroyed, according to Leonard Haseman, of the Missouri College of Agriculture. It caused much more of the trouble last year than most people realize and threatens to do so again.

The next wheat crop must be saved from the fly before the seed goes into the ground, for it is impossible to destroy the pest after the wheat begins to grow and the fly begins its attack. Pasturing wheat and other popular treatments of infested wheat have been proven useless as remedies for the fly. The injury can be prevented but cannot be cured once the pest begins its work.

The weather for the past few months has favored the growth of the volunteer wheat, and where it was not properly destroyed during dry spells it is now full of flies and is almost sure to carry them through the winter. Then in the early spring the flies will come out to lay eggs on the regular crop. Heavy disking of fields overgrown with volunteer wheat will of course kill the wheat and much of the fly in it, though where the pest is in the flaxseed stage this disking will not destroy them all. Plowing under is the only sure way to get all but it is too late for that in most places. The infested volunteer wheat should certainly not be left standing after the regular crop is sown. When the infested volunteer wheat is present tear it to pieces and work as much of it under as possible, and then remember that proper timing of the sowing does help. In the northern counties of the state the last week of September and the first week of October, in central Missouri a week or ten days later and in the southern part of the state a week to ten days later still are the proper times to sow wheat in a normal fall to escape the fall fly injury. A single farmer who disregards these dates may cause loss to the whole neighborhood.

Another Democratic Gathering.

Nevada, Mo., Oct.—The third of five proposed state harmony meetings of the Democratic party in Missouri will be held in Nevada, October 23, according to an announcement made by Chairman F. B. Callaway of the Vernon County Democratic Central Committee today. The meeting will be similar to that held in St. Joseph several days ago, and to the one to be held in Cape Girardeau October 14.

Speaker Champ Clark, Senator Stone, Senator Reed, Governor Major and many of the state officers, ex-Governor Dockery and possibly ex-Governor Folk will make speeches. Arrangements are being made to run special trains and it is expected large numbers of Democrats from all parts of the state will be here.

The meeting to be held here is the third of five proposed Democratic harmony gatherings to be held in Missouri this fall. The first was held in St. Joseph and called "Champ Clark Day." The second will be held in Cape Girardeau October 14, the third in Nevada October 23, the fourth at some point not yet selected in Northeast Missouri and the fifth in St. Louis.

SOURCE OF RUBBER PRODUCT

Rapidly Developing Industry Makes Countries Supplying Crude Material of Special Interest.

"Crude rubber, its source of supply and the conditions governing its progress from the source to American tire factories, have been subjects of especial interest in this country of late," said an officer of a tire and rubber company recently.

Crude rubber is a vegetable product, gathered from certain species of tropical trees, shrubs, vines and roots. It was first introduced into Europe in 1735. It was first used for pencil erasers and in waterproof cloth, and, finally, in solution, in cements. Vulcanizing or curing rubber was discovered in 1844, and thereafter the development of the industry was rapid—though the industry was but an infant in size, compared with now, up to the development of the automobile industry.

Rubber can today be divided into two chief classes—wild and cultivated. These are collected from trees that have grown wild and where there has been no cultivation process. Such trees and shrubs are found mostly in northern South America, Central America, Mexico, Central Africa and Borneo.

The finest rubber in the world has until recently been obtained from the Amazon region of South America and is known as fine Para. For over a century this rubber has been gathered in practically the same way. The native goes into the forest, selects a tree, cuts V-shaped grooves in the bark with a knife made for the purpose, the grooves being cut in herringbone fashion around the tree, with one main groove down the center, like the main vein in a leaf. The latex of the tree (not the sap) flows from the smaller veins and down the center vein into a little cup placed to receive it.

GETTING USED TO IT

"Is your daughter improving in her playing?"
"Either that or I'm getting used to it."

HIS IDEA.

Bill—Now I'll give you a new one on the phonograph.
Jill—Who is that making the noise?
"That's the lightning quartette."
"Sounds like thunder."

NO, INDEED.

Bill—The smallest apartment houses are those occupied by bees. In a cubic foot of honeycomb there are about nine thousand cells.
Jill—I suppose it is not alone the janitor who does the stinging?

TERPSICHORE.

Chorus of Moose Meadow Girls (to Uncle Abner, who has spent three days in New York)—Oh, uncle, now you can teach us all the latest dance steps, can't you?—Puck.

SAME LINE.

"Billions began life by watering horses and cows on a farm."
"And he's still watering stock in Wall street."

NOT SO MUCH.

"I can throw all comers at first touch."
"That's nothing; so can a banana peel."

AWFUL!

"It would be horrible!"
"What would be?"
"A strike of the dry cleaners during the white flannel trouser season!"

KEPT HIS WORD.

She—You promised to stop smoking when we were married.
He—Well, I did. They wouldn't allow smoking in the church.

FARM POINTERS

Agricultural Tips From the Missouri University Exhibits at the State Fair.

Drag your roads.
Select seed corn sure.
Cut close to the trunk in pruning.

Keep borers and codling moth out of the orchard.

The King drag is the great road improver.

Dispose of farm sewage by means of a home-made septic tank.

Cider vinegar made from the windfalls should help fill your pocket-book.

Stone and gravel roads may be needed if the drag cannot do the work.

One county agent has introduced at least a half a dozen new grains hitherto not grown in this county.

Hessian fly inquiries are numerous. Destroy volunteer wheat and sow as late as possible.

Poultry furnishes an average income of $122 per farm in Missouri.

Know your insect friends. Without the flies and wasps that kill the Hessian fly, wheat growing might be entirely impossible in Missouri.

Medals were won at the Panama-Pacific Exposition by Missouri vetch, rye, oats, and wheat, produced in a county that has a county agent.

Boys' corn stringing and girls' chicken dressing contests interested the crowds at the State Fair. Try them at your county fair and other meetings.

Good road-building material is found in practically every county, according to the University of Missouri exhibits shown at the State Fair. It ought to be used to banish poor roads.

Oil properly applied helps greatly, but the dust must be removed, and the surface broken up and loosened about two inches deep; otherwise the oil stands in pools or runs into the ditch.

Fall Pasture vs. Hessian Fly.

While fall pasture will not control the Hessian fly, it does help. If the wheat was sowed early and made a good growth it is almost sure to be infested. The flaxseeds are so far down that even the closest grazing will not reach them, but it does expose them to the winter weather.

THEY ALL DEMAND IT

Lexington, Like Every City and Town in the Union, Receives it.

People with kidney ills want to be cured. When one suffers the tortures of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies today that relieve, but not permanently. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results to thousands. Here is proof of merit from this vicinity.

Mrs. C. E. Walton, Box 132, Wellington, Mo., says: "One of my family had severe attacks of lumbago and for weeks at a time was confined to bed. During these spells, the patient's back pained severely, and the kidney secretions were unnatural. Two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills made a lasting cure."

Price 50 cents at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Walton recommends. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
